HOW TO BE A GOOD FRIEND

To have good friends you must be a good friend. Here are some of the ways good friends treat each other:

Good friends listen to each other.

Good friends don't put each other down or hurt each other's feelings.

Good friends try to understand each other's feelings and moods.

Good friends help each other solve problems.

Good friends give each other compliments.

Good friends can disagree without hurting each other.

Good friends are dependable.

Good friends respect each other.

Good friends are trustworthy.

Good friends give each other room to change.

Good friends care about each other.

Can you think of more to add to this list?

FORGIVENESS

David loves to play video games. Last week he got a brand new one for his birthday! He is getting close to winning it already. Today David picked up his new game to play and saw a big scratch across the screen.

It wasn't just an accidental scratch - it looked like it was done on purpose!

David wondered who would do such a thing. Then he remembered last night when his friend Andy spent the night. Andy had complained that all David wanted to do was play the game. Andy had been pretty bored.

Some Things to Think About:

What would you do if this happened to you? What would you say the next time you saw your friend?

What if you were the friend who had ruined David's game? How would you feel when you got home?

Forgiveness means you are willing to get over being mad at someone even if they have done something that hurt you or made you mad.

What do you think David should do?
(Write down your answer here.)

Have you ever needed to forgive someone?

Have you ever needed someone to forgive you?

Good friends know how to forgive each other so they can keep on being good friends!
